The Housing and Custom Residential Knowledge Community of the American Institute of Architects (AIA), in conjunction with the Office of the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, is now accepting applications for the 2009 Housing and Community Design Awards program. These annual awards recognize the best in residential housing design, particularly in affordable housing, community-based design, participatory design, and housing accessibility. Award recipients will have their projects publicized by HUD and in AIA's enewsletter, AIArchitect, at www.aia.org/aiarchitect/. The winning designs will also be honored at the 2009 AIA National Convention in San Francisco, on April 30 - May 2.

Applications are due December 12, 2008. The criteria and instructions for online submissions are located at www.aia.org/nationalawards. Questions should be directed to AIA at (202) 626-7586 or by email to honorsawards@aia.org.
